

ASK FUNDS IN NAME OF CHARITY CAUSE

Sixth Annual Campaign of Welfare Federation to Begin Next Monday.

LUDLOW TALKS SUNDAY

Final preparations are now being made by district captains for the annual drive of the Welfare Federation, which will open Monday. The campaign will continue until November 1 and a quota of $3,000,000 will be sought in the Philadelphia Metropolitan district, which includes Bala-Cynwyd and the general Main Line territory.

The member agencies of the federation number 126, and include nearly two score hospitals and health organizations, more than a score of children's agencies, more than a score of settlement and character building activities, more than 20 organizations that care for needy families and provide for aged and homeless and about a dozen organizations devoted to promoting better housing, legal safeguards for children, training for social service and preventive measures.

These agencies and their branches are scattered over the entire area of Philadelphia and many of its suburbs and render a vital service to hundreds of thousands of people.

The purpose of the Welfare Federation's annual campaign is to raise funds to meet the operating deficits of these 126 organizations. The total operating cost of those organizations is something more than $9,000,000. Of this sum, the organizations themselves provide approximately $6,000,000 through endowments, service charges, etc. It is the balance, in other words the operating deficit, that the people of metropolitan Philadelphia are asked to provide annually through their contributions to the Welfare Federation. This year the goal of the Federation's campaign will be a figure something in excess of $3,157,000, which was the goal of last year's drive.

The men and women who will solicit your contribution are themselves contributors and in addition they are giving both of their time and strength, for which they neither receive nor expect any compensation whatever.

To help in this work, each according to his or her ability, is the privilege that awaits every man, woman and child in greater Philadelphia during the sixth annual campaign of the Welfare Federation, which runs from October 25 to November 1.

EARLY TRIALS

Of Bala-Merion Electric Co. Told Rotarians by William H. Gillis.

William H. Gillis, of Bala, local superintendent of maintenance for the Philadelphia Electric Company, was principal speaker at the Tuesday luncheon of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club. He told of his experiences and connections with electric light developments in this territory.

Mr. Gillis was first connected years ago with the old Bala and Merion Electric Company which served only consumers who bought stock in the company. He told of amusing experiences which used to happen in the days of old when transformers on street poles used to burn out regularly after heavy storms and he and his men would have to make a round of the district to repair them before residents could have their lights again. The old Bala and Merion was acquired a few years ago by the Philadelphia Electric.

The remainder of the Rotary meeting was devoted to singing, led by Song Leader Fred Walzer. The meeting was at the Cynwyd Club, as usual.

This evening there will be a meeting of the directors of the club in the office of President Alvin E. Shull, on Bala avenue, to discuss arrangements for the Father and Son dinner which the Rotarians plan to give in November. A committee to steer the project will likely be appointed at this time.

BEACONS REMOVED

The advertising beacons along Montgomery pike near Narberth against which a storm of protest arose in Lower Merion recently were removed this week by the advertising firm which placed them there. This action was taken at the request of the Montgomery County Commissioners who wrote the firm asking to have the signs taken away after protests had been received from the Lower Merion Township Commission and civic bodies here.

AMERICAN LEGION PLANS BUSY TIME

Legion and Auxiliary Will Give Cake Sale, Luncheon, Parties.

BANQUET ARMISTICE DAY

Several events of civic interest are planned by the Harold D. Speakman Post of the American Legion in Narberth, including a cake sale next Thursday, the 28th, card parties, and a banquet.

The sale will be held at Dando's store. It will include home-made bread, cake, cookies, soup and candy. Proceeds of this sale will be used to purchase curtains and fixtures for the Post room in the new Community Building, partly in order to have an attractive appearance for the three events soon to be staged.

The card party for the evening of Saturday, November 5, has not, as was erroneously stated last week, been oversubscribed. This benefit, under joint auspices of the American Legion and the Women's Auxiliary, will be held at 8 P. M. in the Post room, which is being tastefully decorated by Mrs. Wipf and Captain Sparks.

Additional prizes for the card party include the following contributions: Narberth Plumbing & Heating Company, towel bar; Mower Brothers, Victor record; Cook Brothers, coffee percolator; George Markle, ash receiver.

Armistice Day Banquet Announced.

The eighth annual Armistice Day banquet under the auspices of the Harold D. Speakman Post of the American Legion will be held Thursday, November 11, 1926, at 7:30 P. M., at the Legion quarters in the Community Building. A number of well-known speakers have been secured to speak, including Colonel Vincent A. Carroll, National Vice Commander of the Legion and Assistant District Attorney of Philadelphia; Jack Kelly, the famous oarsman, and the Honorable Fletcher W. Stites, of Narberth.

PAUL D. BAUGHMAN, SR.

Died Wednesday Morning—Services This Afternoon.

Paul D. Baughman, 43, a resident for seven years of Narberth, died Wednesday at 1:30 A. M. at his home, 104 North Narberth avenue. He had been ill for a year.

Services will be held this afternoon at the home at 2:30. Interment will be in the West Laurel Hill Cemetery. The body was on view last evening.

The Rev. John Van Ness, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will officiate at the obsequies. Mr. Baughman was a valued and active worker for the cause of Christ in the church, and his death was a great loss to the community.

He attended high school in Hanover, Pa., where he was born. He was graduated from Mercersburg Academy, and was for 23 years an official of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Mr. Baughman is survived by his widow, Mrs. Helen M. Baughman; a son, Paul David; a daughter, Madeleine E.; four sisters and two brothers in Hanover, Pa., and one brother living in Springfield, Ohio.

Failing to stop when he was hailed by a policeman on Montgomery pike near Cynwyd early Sunday night cost James Elwood Showell, of Ardmore, motorist, $125 when he was caught and a series of charges preferred against him at a hearing before Magistrate Franklin P. Kromer.

Showell attracted attention of Officer Flynn when he began intricate cutting-in-and-out tactics among motor traffic on Montgomery pike. At the intersection of Woodside avenue, Narberth, he struck the car of Dr. F. D. Patterson, of 2013 Locust street, Philadelphia, and drew a blast from the observing policeman's whistle.

Showell instead of stopping stepped on the gas and speeded away down Montgomery pike. Officer Flynn gave pursuit and with the aid of Constable Robert Lindsay caught his quarry at the gas stations at the intersection of Montgomery and Levering Mill road in Cynwyd. The Squire heard the witnesses and then pronounced his judgment—$25 fine for reckless driving. At this Showell's features brightened perceptibly.

"But," said the Squire, "I also fined you $25 for speeding." Showell's smile faded. "And," continued the Magistrate, "$25 fine for driving without a proper owner's card, $25 for failing to stop, $10 for breaking a bottle on the township highways, $10 for the towing of your car to a garage and $5 costs. Total $125." As the magisterial cash register ceased ringing, the prisoner began to gasp for breath. He paid without protest, however.

"He was lucky at that," was the Squire's comment on the case. "That bottle which he broke while he was fleeing from the policeman didn't contain tea. The charges might have been more serious."

FINEST IN STATE

Narberth School Dispensary Praised by Inspector.

"The finest equipped school dispensary in Pennsylvania," was the term applied to the recent feature of the Narberth schools by one of the State Department of Education doctors, who made a recent tour of inspection.

This was brought out at the monthly meeting of the school board last Friday night. The dispensary was installed in the room formerly used for the library when that department went into larger quarters. The board authorized the purchase of a new sanitary cabinet for the dispensary. This is under the direction of the school nurse, Miss Kavorkian.

Health matters in the local schools are being carefully watched, the principal's report showed. All the pupils have been examined by the school physician during the past month.

Only routine business was transacted at the meeting, attended by all members of the board. Authority was granted for the re-finishing and painting of the junior domestic science room, which work has been done during the institute recess this week.

DIED ON TRAIN

When a train from Paoli, due at Broad Street Station at 8:33 A. M. on Saturday, left Overbrook Station, George B. Tyler, 65, of Narberth, was stricken with heart disease and died before the train reached West Philadelphia.

Passengers say Tyler had run for the train. He boarded the last car, a smoking car, and took a seat. A few minutes later he collapsed in his seat. A doctor among the passengers pronounced Tyler dead.

His body was removed from the train at West Philadelphia.

CARD PARTY

The Delta Chapter, of Narberth, of the Tau Delta Phi Sorority, will hold a card party next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Ardmore Country Club, Sutton road. Refreshments, music and prizes. A small admission will be collected at the door.

COMMUNITY CLUB WANTS HOUSE

Discuss Need for New Home at Fall Luncheon in Elm Hall.

NOTED GUESTS SPEAK

"How attractive it is!" was the comment heard on all sides on Tuesday, when some 80 of the Community Club came together for the fall luncheon. Elm Hall seemed very home-like and cheerful with its fresh, bright draperies, its gay flowers and graceful vines. Mrs. Douglass presented each member to the guests, Mrs. John B. Hamme, president of the State Federation, and Mrs. H. S. Prentiss Nichols, godmother of the local club.

Following a most satisfying luncheon Mrs. Cockrill read a resolution deploring the loss of a valued member, Mrs. J. A. England. Mr. Henry G. Banks, of Narberth, professor of music at Girard College, gave several piano numbers; Mathews, The Pines; McDowell, The Brook; a Russian dance, and, as encore, an etude of his own. Mrs. Douglass expressed the club's appreciation of the gift of a beautiful American flag from Mrs. du Marais, and then read a telegram full of good wishes from Mrs. C. P. Fowler, former president, who resigned to go West.

Next a number of club women expressed their reaction to the clubhouse question. Mrs. J. B. Brooks, The Meaning of a Clubhouse to the Individual; Mrs. C. H. Shaw, Why I Think We Need a Clubhouse in Narberth; Miss Emma Mueller, What a Clubhouse Would Mean to the Juniors. Each emphasized the uncertainty that goes with rented quarters and the need to go ahead and "do it now."

Dr. Bawden's addresses to men are of an exceptional character, and the club extends a cordial invitation to all men of the town to attend. This is the first general meeting of the club this fall and this together with the speaker it has, will mean a heavy attendance. Refreshments, too.

The people of Narberth are requested to keep this date open, that they may be able to attend the chicken supper, served by the Ladies of the Sunshine Bible Class, in the basement of the Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church, 5:30 P. M. to 8 P. M.

RED CROSS APPROVES TOXIN ANTI-TOXIN

Do not let your child get diphtheria. Have him given the toxin anti-toxin treatment. This is certain to prevent the disease in almost all cases. The treatment is simple. It consists of an injection of toxin anti-toxin once a week for three weeks and has no harmful effect.

The earlier this treatment is given after the infant has reached the age of six months the better, because it is between the ages of six months and five years that a child is most likely to have diphtheria. Every child should be protected in this way.

Children under school age given free treatments at clinics.

SOPRANO SCORES IN FIRST RECITAL

Nina Morgano Opens Orchestra Asso. Season in Ardmore.

GENEROUS IN ENCORES

Mellow airs of an "Old World," mingled with the freshness of a "New," were brought by Nina Morgano, an opera star, and her accompanist to Main Line music-lovers, who formed an appreciative and large audience in the Ardmore Theatre, Sunday afternoon, for the first musical event of the season under the auspices of the Main Line Orchestra Association.

Miss Morgano's clear, flexible soprano voice is endowed with rare tonal quality, pure, sure and velvety in quality. The well-rounded program gave her ample opportunity to demonstrate its ease in handling almost all the vocal requirements of a well-equipped concert singer.

The first group of songs included Pergolesi's, "Nina"; Anthony Young's, "Phyllis Has Such Charming Graces," and "Kommt in Schlanker Dursch Geganen," from Weber's "Der Freischutz," "Nina" was beautifully done in good bel canto style, and it is to be regretted that Pergolesi's mournful coffin-side dirge was not sung in its impressive entirety. In contrast with the Italian lament, the Old English song about Phyllis, and the lilting German operatic aria, proved irresistible.

French and Italian grace and beauty vied in the second group

STOP WILMINGTON AND GET REVENGE

Lower Merion Wins 6-0 To Avenge Defeat of 1925 Eleven

ENEMY WAS FAVORITE

The story of David and Goliath was vividly re-enacted in the Lower Merion-Wilmington High game last Saturday on the latter's field, when the Merion eleven outplayed and outfought the much-heralded Wilmington aggregation, to score a 6-to-0 victory. The defeat of the 1925 Lower Merion eleven was avenged, as the undefeated Wilmington team was stopped.

Coach Adam's grid men "found themselves" before their much heavier and seasoned set of opponents and played with the best spirit witnessed this season. Cooperation and teamwork were high lights.

It seemed truly as if the spirit of the 1925 suburban champions came back to imbue a spirit of revenge in Adam's '26 gridders.

Wilmington, scheduled to give the Merion a trouncing and with a team supposedly better than that of the previous season, regarded the Lower Merion tilt as a practice game on which to sharpen its edges for future conquests. Up until the game with the Ardmore lads the big Red team had been having things in its own hands and had whipped Chester, Coatesville and Northeast high schools by lop-sided scores. Their "Waterloo" was a bitter one, especially as the Maroon and White colors had been lowered by Cheltenham the previous week. A different team, however, played Wilmington than that which battled Cheltenham.

Two Scores Ruled Out

In the first half three touchdowns were scored by the Ardmore eleven, two of them to be called back for being out of bounds, leaving but one which tallied for the only score of the game. Running around Wilmington's ends and through her tackles became a pastime for the Adam-coached grid warriors. Little Ossie Smith, "Slippery" Jack Miller and Dohard all proved unsolvable problems for Wilmington. By Miller after a series of first downs to the Wilmington goal line.

In the second half two fighting teams vied for first blood. Wilmington prodded into fury and Lower Merion, out for revenge, matched brute strength against strategy. First downs were about even during the second half. The Maroon and White combination made a drive into Wilmington's territory in the third period. Wilmington, in the fourth quarter, desperately attempted to drive the jinx off in an offensive thrust to Lower Merion's 15-yard line. A stone wall made further attempts impossible and the Merion eleven started a new drive through Wilmington in the centre field, when the final whistle terminated the battle.

HERE AND HEREABOUTS

It has been more than 30 years since Narberth became a borough and in all that time nothing has happened which shocked the community with such bewildering force as that which occurred when the fearful news of Dr. Faries' sudden death became broadcasted throughout the town. Everybody seemed to learn of it at the same time, very early in the morning of that fateful Wednesday, and men and women sought counsel with each other in the eager hope that what they had heard was not true. Business came to a practical standstill and the one topic of conversation the whole day long was the cruel blow which Narberth had sustained in the death of this good man. The sense of personal loss and distress which everywhere abounded was deep and poignant and appeared to be exactly the same as if the grim reaper had devastated hundreds of households. Such a profound testimonial can only be induced by a lifetime of supreme sacrificing service and Dr. Faries indeed passes over the Great Divide as a "workman who need not be ashamed." He was never lured to those specialty fields where the practice of the medical profession appears to be so decidedly comfortable and lucrative, even though he had every qualification for such pursuits, but instead he continued, as at the very beginning, a "family practitioner," going through our neighborhoods daily for more than 25 years, bringing health to the sick and comfort to the afflicted, a true physician and a noble gentleman. The impress of his fruitful life will long be a haloed thing in this vicinity.

Dr. Faries came to Narberth in 1897, on the advice of Dr. Lodge, who was at the time practicing in Merion, and who at once recommended his patients in this section to the young man. Dr. Town, the father of Dr. Edwin C. Town, who was living in Narberth at the time, also warmly encouraged the newcomer and it was not long before Dr. Faries was on his way to a firm footing in the confidence of the community. When he first arrived he took quarters as a single man with the Maxwell family, who had the house now occupied by Dr. Town. At that time, Dr. Faries made his calls on a bicycle and this was succeeded by the customary horse and buggy. After a little while he had to make use of two horses to cover his numerous calls, a white one and a brown one, as many old residents well remember. His marriage to his present grief-stricken widow, a lovable lady who is held in extraordinary esteem by all who are privileged to know her, and who at that time was Miss Louise Jones, of Merion, took place at St. Asaph's in Bala, and is described as a most notable occasion. The house at the southwest corner of Narberth and Windsor avenues, which he occupied for so many years, was purchased by him from Howard McCarter, who had completely rehabilitated it and who erected the present garage-stable building on it. It is interesting to recount that the erstwhile name of Narberth, Elm Station, has its origin from the fine old elm tree which still flourishes on the property. Before Dr. Faries' occupancy, the house was known as "Elm Cottage" and at one time it was used as a social club by a group of 40 or 50 men who lived in these parts. John Caldwell is one of the few remaining members who held forth there. It is also said that Dr. Faries desired to build on the lot which was vacant at the northeast corner of the intersection, but for some reason or other could not secure it. With the advent of the automobile, our physician was prompt to acquire one and some folks say his "horseless buggy" was the very first in the borough. Last year he moved his residence to Wynnewood, a decision influenced, among other things, by the fact that the blundering busses plied their harrowing havoc past his house, to the great annoyance and discomfiture of the family, and at that time he arranged to share his duties with Dr. Carl W. White, who will continue, it is stated, at the old corner.

There was no good thing which had to do with Narberth's welfare which did not have Dr. Faries' warm support or active participation. For many years he was the head of our local Board of Health and the splendid health records of the community bear witness to the alert and vigilant manner in which he safeguarded the public interest in this respect. His purse was always open to the very numerous charitable and civic requests which were made on it and he had considerable to do with the formation of our national bank. He was impressed chiefly that such an institution would be of real advantage to the town and it was on that score, not for any profit of his own, that he co-operated earnestly in its organization. His associates desired that he should become the president of the new depository, but his manifold other duties precluded this, and he devoted as much time as he could spare to his position of director. He was president of the American Legion Building and Loan Association and was instrumental in adding greatly to the assets of that highly successful organization. In his own practice he gave in abundance of his time and talents without financial recompense of any kind, facts which come from those he served and never through any word of his. For instance, he was almost a daily visitor at the Merion Convent for more than 25 years, administering to the large community of nuns at that institution, a service he always rendered with great good will and without any thought of charging for it. Many other similar offerings of his skill and service abound in his lustrous career, and as he goes down to death his memory must surely be held in reverent benediction as a man who well served his generation and who encompassed all his goodly works, not by a mere or measured philanthropy, but by a broad mantle of real and gracious charity.

The reasons which prompted Dr. Faries to enlist in his country's cause also afford an insight into the high motives and ideals which influenced his whole life. As soon as America was called into the World War he resolved that it was his duty to offer all he had in the glorious enterprise, and as he spoke of the matter to this narrator it was an expression of patriotism on truly spiritual heights, free from emotion or any chauvin tinge, a solid and sterling declaration of what a man owes to his native land. Not the least of the convictions which governed him was the necessity of impressing the younger generation with a lofty conception of what is involved by the privilege of being an American citizen. He went overseas at tremendous personal sacrifice, for his family was very dear to him and his great practice included countless people who would feel bereft when he was away, but he recognized the call to arms as a major obligation in the danger that beset his country, and his major's rank indicated how valuable his war services must have been. In like manner he was unrelenting in keeping himself abreast of all new developments and discoveries in his profession, and the remarkable precision of his diagnoses is a matter of widespread renown. One of the victims of the orgy of death which has spread through Narberth during the present year had contracted a disease which is said to be almost unique, only two previous similar cases having been recorded in medical annals. Dr. Faries was not found unprepared as he proceeded to its treatment, and whilst the impending fatality could not be checked, the patient was saved, by a comprehensive knowledge of the facts, much of the horror and anguish which are said to accompany the progress of this dreadful malady. He always knew what he was about and it was after the way of the man that as he spent himself in behalf of others paid little heed to the ravages which his devoted services were making in his own body, and no effusive suggestion is contained in the statement that without doubt he fell a martyr in the welfare of humanity.

Let the life and works of Clarence Faries guide other men unto their own deaths.

HIGHWAY REPORT

Matters of Interest to Taxpayers in September Activities.

Many matters of importance were taken up by the Highway and Sewer Committee of Council during the past month, as shown in the report filed last week by Chairman Robert F. Wood. The text of the report, noted in these columns last week, is as follows:

Report of Highway Committee.

The September meeting of Council granted the paving petition of residents of Wynnedale avenue on the condition that a contribution of $500 toward the borough's expense of this work should first be received from Mr. A. C. Shand, Jr. At the same meeting the highway committee was given authority to act in this matter. A check for $500 from Mr. Shand was received by the chairman of this committee on September 25. At a meeting of the highway committee on September 29, estimates on doing this work were examined from the Good Roads Company and from the Ramsdell Construction Company. Both of these estimates exceeded $3000, which was the amount of the estimated cost of doing this work ourselves. At that meeting of the committee, Mr. Suplee, the street commissioner, was authorized to start work on Wynnedale avenue immediately.

The street commissioner started the resurfacing of Wynnedale avenue on October 4, employing borough labor and apparatus. It is expected that this job will be entirely completed by October 23. Out of the estimated total cost of $3000 30 per cent, or $900, will be billed to the abutting property owners, leaving $2100 for the borough to pay. From that can be subtracted the $500 contribution from Mr. Shand, leaving a net total cost to the borough of not more than $1600.

This committee has approved and turned over to the finance committee a voucher providing for the payment of $1684.83 to the Good Roads Company in final settlement of their work under the contract which was awarded to them in connection with the street bond issue. This sum is the balance which was held up at the last meeting of Council pending a further report from this committee. We recommend that this payment be made by the borough treasurer immediately.

At the last meeting of Council, this committee was authorized to lay 24-inch terra cotta pipe along the bed of the creek from the southern boundary of Mr. McGarvey's property southerly to the point where the brook enters the two 18-inch pipes laid by Mr. Entemann. This work, including a man-hole at the southern end, has been completed during the past month at a total cost of $209.50, which is $65.50 less than the amount authorized by Council to be expended on that job.

In connection with the same work of piping the creek, this committee was authorized at the last meeting of Council to state to Henry A. Barton, Esq., attorney for Mr. D. J. McGarvey, the terms on which the borough would co-operate with Mr. McGarvey in piping the same creek across the length of his property. These terms and conditions were communicated to Mr. Barton by the chairman of this committee in the form of a letter on September 11. No acknowledgment has been received, but the street commissioner has learned informally that Mr. McGarvey has ordered the pipe and intends to proceed with this work in accordance with the terms which we communicated to his attorney.

An emergency job arose during the past month and necessitated the relaying of 108 feet of storm sewer on Price avenue, from Dudley avenue to Conway avenue. It was necessary to use steel pipe for this purpose, because of willow trees on private property nearby, and the total cost was $393.58.

In accordance with previous authorization, a city inlet has been installed at the west corner of Haverford and Forrest avenues.

The postmaster recently complained that the total lack of system of house numbers on Montgomery avenue made it impossible for the postman to give satisfactory mail service on that street. He asked for our assistance in working out a better system. The chairman of this committee has written to the township commissioners asking them to appoint someone to co-operate in this work. When that has been done, and a satisfactory system of new numbers has been worked out, we will report it to Council in detail.

The highway department collected 228 cubic yards of ashes during the month of September at a total labor cost of $183.30. Labor charges for street cleaning and street maintenance amounted to $1149.48. In addition $7.22 was expended for renting a steam roller and $803.55 was paid out for materials.

You Will Get Your Coal When Promised

Everyone is likely to be skeptical of the promises the coal dealer makes, for so often through reasons he cannot prevent, deliveries are not made at just the time promised.

We feel that with our increased trucking facilities and the time we used to devote to building materials now concentrated upon coal, we have perfected our organization to the extent of being able to keep all promises.

The rush of the past few days occasioned by the sudden appearance of cold weather has proved this to us. If you will call us the next time you want coal, name the day you want it, we shall be glad to prove it to you.

Christmas!

Not So Far Away At That!

IN TWO months we will be searching the Stores for Gifts for the folks at home and to be sent far away. Also we will be searching for the funds to meet this sudden drain upon the family exchequer.

What a surprise, then, to receive a fat check in December, representing a year's saving in the Narberth National Bank Christmas Club, plus generous interest. Truly, the receipt of such a check may be counted among the "Kicks" of Life.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PLAN FOR A CLUB NEXT YEAR—A NEW ONE OR A LARGER ONE—AND TO BE SURE YOUR CARD IS UP TO DATE. IT'S THE PLEASANTEST KIND OF SAVING THERE IS.

MOTHERS' COUNCIL

Formed With First Meeting on October 25.

A group of nine mothers interested in our public schools has organized a Mothers' Council in order to develop a better and more sympathetic understanding between the teachers and the mothers of all children under our public school system.

This organization, while fostered by the Women's Community Club, is open to membership for every mother in Narberth who has children in school here in town or in those classes in Lower Merion whose tuition is paid by the Narberth School Board.

The Mothers' Council asks no dues, only active, loyal support in the accomplishment of its aim.

An informal get-acquainted meeting with the teachers of your children will be held on Monday, October 25, at 8 P. M., in the junior high school. The Mothers' Council urges all mothers of Narberth school children to be present. Refreshments will be served.

Regular meetings of the council will be held on the second Monday of each month at 8 P. M., in the junior high school. Will all mothers desiring to help on this good work please send their names to Mrs. C. W. Bates, 407 North Narberth avenue (Narberth 1641-W)?

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

OLDEST DRINK IN SCIENCE MUSEUM

Curator F. V. Keeley, of Merion, Explains Hollow Rock With Liquid

INTACT FOR CENTURIES

The oldest drink in the world preserved intact for thousands of years has been placed on exhibition in the Museum of the Academy of Natural Science, Nineteenth street and the Parkway.

It is contained in a large crystal of calcite in which there is a cavity several inches long. In this cavity is about a one-half gill of liquid—presumably water. This, according to F. J. Keeley, of Latches lane, Merion, curator of the William S. Vaux collection of minerals in the Academy is probably the largest of such inclusions in the world.

The Academy is the oldest institution of its kind in America and during the long time that the crystal has been kept in cabinets not open to the inspection of the public the liquid sealed in the crystal has not appreciably decreased in quantity. The crystal with its liquid content was first uncovered at Rossie, N. Y., in 1838.

"The sea sand of New Jersey which is derived from such rocks as calcite frequently contains such cavities partially filled with liquid and each containing a small bubble of air or gas," said Mr. Keeley. "There may be hundreds of cavities in a single grain of sand where the bubbles are sufficiently small. They show a continuous vibratory motion known as the Brownian motion, being due to vibration of molecules in the liquid."

"In one variety of blue quartz from Bucks county, Pa., the liquid inclusions contain, in addition to a bubble, minute crystals which are in constant motion, a motion that has been continuous for possibly millions of years. Smoky quartz from Lansdowne and Chester, and amethysts from Delaware county, are notable for liquid inclusions which frequently occur in fluorite rock, salt and beryl. They are particularly characteristic of the emerald in which the cavity in addition to a bubble usually contains a small cubic crystal. Liquid Is Usually Water."

"The liquid inclusions in these is usually water or an aqueous solution, but not infrequently liquid carbonic acid under pressure. The latter is readily identified by the fact that it only remains liquid under low temperatures."

Mr. Keeley recently cut a sapphire in which an inclusion contained liquid and a bubble which moved backward and forth like the bubble of a spirit level, but which disappeared entirely if the stone was warmed by holding in the hand.

ARMISTICE DAY BANQUET

American Legion Invites All Men of Narberth.

The annual Armistice Day banquet will be held at the American Legion quarters in the Community Building, on November 11, at 7 P. M., under the auspices of the Harold D. Speakman Post.

A cordial invitation is extended to all men of Narberth, ex-service and otherwise, to attend. It is planned to have a well-known local orchestra, prominent speakers and a spirit of good-fellowship that all will enjoy. The pastors of the local churches are expected to be present.

Dinner will be served by a caterer at a cost of $2.50 per cover. Tickets may be procured from any of the following committee: Robert C. Collins, Arthur Cook and Walter R. O'Sullivan.

REPAIRING WYNNEDALE ROAD

Repairs are well under way on Wynnedale Road, nee Holland avenue, prior to its acceptance by the borough as a town-maintained road.

Patching and resurfacing is being done by the Borough forces under the direction of the Street Commissioner. The costs of the improvement will be met by means of the 10-30 agreement by which, under the street paving bond issue, the abutting property owners will pay 30 per cent. and the Borough 70 per cent. of the cost. A. C. Shand, Jr., has contributed a lump sum of $500 towards the work. Mr. Shand is the developer of the section.

When the work is finished, a deed of dedication will be drawn, turning the street over to the Borough as part of the permanent highway system.

SALESMAN CALLED FAKE

Householders are warned by the city police to watch for a man posing as a sea captain and selling Oriental silks. The materials are fakes.

The man is reported as giving the name of Freeman. From a description given by one victim, Freeman is about 24 years old, 5 feet 6 inches in height and of slight build. He is supposed to wear tortoise-rimmed glasses and says he is trying to raise enough money to get back to his ship in New York by selling the silk rugs and other silk articles he succeeded in bringing over from China.

This is your paper, and your advice is appreciated.

WHITE PINE

The favored wood of all mechanics, when ease of working is desired.

Our own State—a pioneer in producing real Cork White Pine, is hardly a factor at this time, but Michigan, Wisconsin, Idaho and several of the Southern Central States, as well as parts of Canada, have fallen in line and are shipping into this market practically all that is required. Due to the fact that we are getting farther away from the standing timber, the prices are not the same as you remember ten or fifteen years ago, but after all, it's the "Old Reliable," and WE HAVE IT.

Milk retailing at five cents a pint and nine cents a quart against a former price respectively four and eight cents was distributed for the first time Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hager will move into their new home on Narberth avenue shortly. Mrs. Hager was Miss Mary Haines.

Those from Narberth who attended President Wilson's reception to Pennsylvania Democrats at Shadow Lawn, N. J., last Saturday, were A. E. Wohler, George W. McKee, James R. Cole, Joseph F. Laird and Edward S. Haws.

The annual Sunday school picnic of the Baptist Church was held Saturday at Pennhurst, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hopper.

Work on Narbrook Park is proceeding apace. Five homes have been built where but a few months ago was a mosquito-infested swamp.

of Miss Morgana's songs. R. Hahn's ever-popular "Si mes vers ayant des ailes," appealed with its exquisite simplicity; Bizet's "Adieu de L'Hotesse Arabe" thrilled with its composer's sensuous Spanish swing and grace; Puccini's "E L'uccellino," charmed with its bel canto, and Sibella's "Ballata" was captivating in its coloratura grace and range. For an encore Miss Morgana sang a delightful little French lyric, "Mandolin," by Burgmann.

Kathryn Kerin, who proved a most capable accompanist of Miss Morgana, occupied the third group of the five-part program. An "Etude" of Liszt was played with sympathetic understanding of the great soul of the master, as was the suave, charming "Waltz" of Brahms, which was given as an encore to the group of soli.

The other numbers of Miss Kerin's group were Amani's "Oriental" and Rachmaninoff's "Humoresque." Miss Kerin employed a light, flexible touch, with good tone quality, which was marred only slightly by a "canary on the perch" in the sustaining pedal. This screech became evident in the piano used by Anna Case last year, and this year's followed tradition.

Miss Kerin's soli were characterized by the same smartness and brilliance that marked her accompaniments. However, she did not have, in certain of her numbers, a perfect precision; but, then, who has?

From the fourth number Miss Morgana sang a group of light and sweet little things, to furnish a stronger contrast with the aria that composed the final number of the program. Chadwick's, "He Loves Me," was one; Elinor Warren's, "Children of the Moon," was another sung with perfect control and tone-modulation. Rimsky-Korsakow's "The Rose Has Charmed the Nightingale" was a plaintive thing, expressing, as one critic has it, "the sadness of a spring night when one is alone, and does not wish to be;" "Lieding's "Thou" was done in semi-popular, semi-ballad style, and the encore, Beccia's "A Little Brown Owl Once Lived in a Tree" was a diverting account of an affectionate rambler rose who climbed the owl's tree "to-woo-you."

"Mad Scene" Finale.

The piece de resistance, saved by Miss Morgana for the last number, as usual, was the famous wild, sad, "Mad Scene" of Ophelia, from Thomas' "Hamlet." In this, Miss Morgana excelled herself. Although she lacked the tempestuous robustness of a Melba, she displayed rare tonal qualities. Her voice was velvety except when she failed to cover a few loud high notes. The coloratura agility of sprightly Galli-Curci was lacking, but then, Miss Morgana also lacked Mlle. Galli-Curci's propensity for sharpening and wandering off the pitch.

Miss Morgana was generous with her encores. In addition to encores, after previous groups, she sang Sibella's "La Girometta," following the last number of the program. In this, she bravely conquered a growing hoarseness which was apparent in only two numbers.

LUTHERAN LIONS HEAD

Interchurch Bowling League—Season Is Well On.

The bowling season is now in full swing. All the teams had their full quota of players out for the last two matches.

The Lutheran Lions are a speedy lot and undoubtedly will outdistance their pursuers unless the captains of the other teams send out an SOS for some strenuous practice.

The Presbyterian Pilots met the Baptist Boosters last night, and Monday the Baptist Battlers are scheduled to play the Methodist Marathons.

A NEW PRIZE BOOK

Library Has Bought a Notable Book for Children.

The Narberth Library purchased this week a copy of Arthur Bowie Chrisman's book of Chinese fairy and folk tales, "Shen of the Sea." This is the book which has recently gained for its author the John Newbery medal, awarded for the most distinguished book for children written during the year. This medal was presented by the Children's Librarian Section of the American Library Association at its fiftieth anniversary conference recently held at Atlantic City.

Arthur B. Chrisman is a Virginian who is now farming in the Blue Ridge. While living in Chinatown at a boarding house he became friends with a Chinese who told him many of the tales and legends contained in his "Shen of the Sea."

The medal, a gift of Frederick G. Melcher, of New York City, is named in honor of John Newbery, an eighteenth century publisher and bookseller, and one of the first publishers to devote attention to children's books. It is offered to citizens or residents of the United States only.

In presenting the medal, Miss Nina C. Brotherton, chairman of the Children's Librarians Section of the American Librarian Association said that there were certain essentials which a great book possessed; simplicity, sincerity, wholesome humor, directness and literary quality, and that in the belief that these qualities were found in "Shen of the Sea," and so would make the book one to live and to give pleasure to future generations, it was awarded the medal.

Hendrick Van Loon's "Story of Mankind" received the first Newbery medal, in 1922. Others which have been honored are Hugh Lofting's "Voyages of Dr. Dolittle," Charles Boardman Hawes' "The Dark Frigate," and Charles J. Finger's "Tales from Silver Lands." All of these books, including "Shen of the Sea," are now in the children's department of the Library.

AMERICAN LEGION HAS MANY EVENTS TO OFFER

The clergymen of Narberth will attend and also the G. A. R. veterans. All men of Narberth, ex-service and otherwise, are invited and urged to attend. Music will be by a local orchestra and dinner will be served by a caterer at $2.50 per cover. Tickets may be secured from the committee: Robert Collins, Arthur Cook, Walter O'Sullivan.

On the following Thursday, November 18, a cover luncheon will be served the community, from 12.30 until 2 P. M., in the Post room of the Community Building. It was decided to serve the luncheon here, at 50 cents a dinner, in order that business people from Narberth might be able to take advantage of the building's convenient location. Ladies of the Auxiliary will serve the luncheon. Tickets are now being sold.

For the ladies who wish to spend a congenial afternoon, the card party committee has planned to prepare tables and prizes and will charge only 25 cents additional for this attraction.

All the events announced by the Legion are community affairs. They are open to all, whether members of the Post or Legion or not. It is hoped that every person in Narberth will attend at least one, if not all three events.

WOMEN'S COMMUNITY CLUB

Discuss Need for New Clubhouse.

In her speech Mrs. Nichols, too, stressed the clubhouse idea, saying that as the owner of valuable real estate a club acquires an added prestige in the community that increases its influence. Her chief theme, however, was the club woman as a citizen and especially as a voter. She most effectively castigated the non-voter, to whose indifference are due many of the political evils we suffer. In closing, she drew a picture of the ideal club woman, endowing her with all those gracious qualities that enable her to "look up, love, laugh, and lift."

Mrs. Hamme, president of the State Federation, unites the nineteenth century ideal of feminine delicacy of physique with the incisive mind and forceful manner that the twentieth century demands. She, also, emphatically declared that the non-voter plays into the hands of the corrupt politician and so helps to lower the political level of the nation. She urged not to fear the task of building a clubhouse, since no woman's club has yet gone bankrupt.

Mrs. Hamme's real message was of the meaning of the State Federation as expressed at the recent convention. She dwelt on the movement for tree planting both for civic ornament and for reforestation. Prizes have been offered for the clubs planting the most trees in the coming year. In closing, Mrs.

Hamme urged all to attend the State Federation day at the Sesquicentennial—November 9.

The very delicious luncheon was served from the Central Y. M. C. A. in Philadelphia under the supervision of Miss Julia Beck, who has charge of the Y. M. C. A. cafeterias in the city. The Hospitality Committee made most efficient waitresses: Mrs. A. Y. Reinking, chairman; Mrs. B. E. Achenbach, Mrs. J. E. Burrell, Mrs. C. B. Carson, Mrs. L. B. Egerton, Mrs. P. N. Field, Mrs. Howard Hipwell, Mrs. W. J. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. W. C. Newman, Mrs. C. A. Peeney, Mrs. H. E. Shenton, Mrs. G. B. Supplee, Mrs. E. F. Wolf, Mrs. H. B. Speed, Mrs. R. C. Williams.

The Montgomery County Federation will meet in Schwenksville on Friday, October 28. There is to be a flower show with prizes. Those desiring to go by automobile are requested to give their names to Mrs. Farmer soon.

This year the club will issue a monthly calendar in place of the post card notices. All notices for the November calendar must be in Mrs. Douglass' hands by Saturday, October 23.

The first meeting of the Mothers' Council is announced elsewhere in this issue, for Monday, at 8 P. M., in the Narberth Junior High School.

The next regular meeting of the Community Club will be slightly irregular. As Elm Hall is a polling place, the date will be changed to Monday, November 1, at the usual hour.

Settled In Our New Home

AFTER weeks of planning and working, we announce with pride the fact that we are now settled in our permanent quarters. The work of building has been going on apace. A modern, completely equipped structure has been prepared to serve as the finest Roofing and Sheet-Metal Headquarters in the Main Line District.

We are now in a position to add a new definition of Service to our work. More room, a bright, airy two-story building, adequate equipment—all will assure you of the most pleasing kind of work.

The homes of those we serve stretch from City Line to the limits of the Main Line district, in addition to the Narberth residents with whom we have dealt for fourteen years. Increase of scope has meant no reduction in personal attention. We are never too busy to look into matters carefully.

REMEMBER—Phone us for roofing, sheet-metal work, heater and range installation and repairs, spouting, gutters, etc. Also for relining of refrigerators, manufacture and repairs to skylights, cornices, etc.
